

There is a lesson for us also. Although normally hidden, the divinity of Jesus was always united to His humanity. With His passion, death and resurrection, as well as with His ascension into Heaven, He restores our humanity to its original splendor and even grants us a participation in His divinity. Through sanctifying grace which we receive through the redemption and our baptism, we are “divinized” in Christ or transfigured with Him. The divine grace we receive in the sacraments, transforms us from within. We are called in our Christian life to allow that divine life to manifest itself through the virtues we are invited to live. The union with the Divine Trinity which is realized through Baptism truly can transfigure us into Christlike figures in the world. Through sanctifying grace, we too become “beloved sons and daughters” of the Father in Christ. This is our true identity, before all else.

Saint of the Week
St. Katherine Drexel -
March 3

“If we wish to serve God and love our neighbor well, we must manifest our joy in the service we render to Him and them. Let us open wide our hearts. It is joy which invites us. Press forward and fear nothing.”
